This certificate is part of the A.S. Graphics Technology degree.

The program is made up of eight courses within the A.S. Graphic Design Technology degree. These courses build on the Graphic Design Support Certificate. Within this certificate there is specific instruction about designing with type, creating page layouts and illustrations using multiple graphic applications. Products from this certificate are primarily for print; Illustrations, Composite Compositions, and Digital Mechanicals. Although still images for print are created, the principles and application skills are interchangeable with web development. Credits earned in this certificate also apply to the A.S.
